

What should I do when I can't hear broadcast radio?

~Diverse information collection~

It is broadcast radio that is useful as a measure to send information to people staying outside during an emergency. In Yaizu city, the system's speakers are installed in 200 places. But, the voice of broadcast radio is sometimes hard to hear when we stay indoors, in an unfavorable place, or in unfavorable wind direction. Please understand how to collect information diversely and routinely to get it immediately during a disaster and to secure

◆Yaizu City Website (multilingual)

You can see the contents of broadcast radio in multiple languages. A scanning of the right QR code shows a list of broadcasting contents. Please understand translation is not 100% correct due to an automatic translation.

▲City Website

◆Yaizu Disaster Prevention E-mail

You can receive the contents of broadcast radio, earthquake and tsunami information, weather information, and fire information as an E-mail. There is information in English and Portuguese, too. If you want to use it, please register yourself from the top right code.

▲Registration guidance page of Yaizu Disaster Prevention E-Mail

◆Yaizu City Official LINE

You can receive the same information as that of Yaizu Disaster Prevention E-mail which contains disaster prevention information, contents of broadcast radio, etc. as well as various information in Yaizu City. If you want to use it, please register yourself from the top right code.

▲Yaizu City Official LINE

◆"d" button on a TV remote control panel

When you hear emergency broadcast with siren, you can see the local information including disaster information, etc. through data broadcasting on TV.

